INTRODUCTION

With the success of the 4th edition of INTEKHAB-O-LUGHAT, which was personally prepared by late Mr. Sultan Nathani and published soon after his demise, we have decided to come out with the 5th edition of the book. This time only the LUGHAT (Dictionary) part in paper-back edition.

With the expansion of TV media in the Asian sub-continent, especially in India and Middle Eastern countries, the understanding of Urdu language has become a necessity to enjoy ghazals, film lyrics, TV serials and stage performances.

In this edition, we have deleted the INTEKHAB (Urdu-Hindi verses) as the Urdu literature is wide and varied. In recent times, many Urdu writers have published numerous books on Urdu literature and its influence is spreading. It is an instrument of artistic expression of love.

This dictionary will help understanding the beauty of Urdu language which has been given a new lease of life in recent times.

SULTAN NATHANI

Born: 11.7.1918 Expired: 7.8.1992

Born in Surat to a middle class family, even as an adolescent, SULTAN NATHANI was fond of dramatics, art and literature. He was an intellectual thinker, a rationalist and an ardent secularist.

Due to his hard work, integrity and foresight he rose to be a leading industrialist. After retirement, he had engaged himself in heading various social and charitable organisations and Trusts.

Sultan Nathani's main aim in life was to popularise the Urdu language in Hindi script which according to him would be a first step towards national integration.

Although Urdu was not his mother-tongue, he found immense enjoyment in Urdu language and with a view to popularise Urdu among the non-Urdu speaking people, he initiated the project under the title series of URDU FOR PLEASURE FOR GHAZAL LOVERS, the preparation of Urdu-English dictionary, especially restricting to the words mainly used in Ghazals, Mushaairas and Hindi film songs so as to enable common man to enjoy and understand the meaning of each and every word.

Though partially disabled since 1986, he had remained active and used his time in bringing out the 3rd and 4th editions of this book and selecting 500 Urdu verses for incorporation in the 4th edition of the book. He has given happiness to thousands of lovers of Urdu.

PREFACE

With the run-away success of the 4th edition and to meet the unprecendented demand for the book, it has been felt necessary to come out with the 5th edition. The main purpose of this series of URDU FOR PLEASURE is for popularising spoken Urdu which has a charismatic effect and a grace of its own.

Prior to Independence, maximum number of journals and newspapers published in India were in Urdu language. After the partition of India, Urdu has suffered a set-back in India due to continuous mis-givings that it is the language of Muslims. Urdu continues to be one of the officially recognised language of India.

The main hurdle with Urdu is that it is written in Persian script. To-day, Persian script is definitely a foreign script for Indians and a divisive element in the way of national integration. During the 15th century Persian was the script of Moghul Royalty. There is no difference between Urdu and Hindi as they are gramatically similar. As a matter of fact, Muslims must demand that Urdu must be taught in Hindi script in their own interest as well as in the country's interest.

Urdu does not belong to any region or to any religion. It got developed by the natives speaking Brij Bhasha coming continuously in contact with Moghul army's camps during their rule. The word Urdu means 'Army Camp'. This contact and communication between the natives of Northern India and Moghul soldiers developed into Urdu language. It is not developed by any Pundits or Molvis. It is people's language born in Delhi and purely an Indian language. No less a person than India's renowned journalist Khushwant Singh has said that Urdu is Kohinoor amoung Indian languages. Today, it is the soul of Indian film industry and basic language for ghazals, film lyrics and stage performances.

Well-known poet Josh Malihabadi had expressed his opinion that in India, Urdu, must adopt Hindi script in the interest of Urdu language, Urdu literature and in national interest. Also, well-known poet Firaq Gorakhpuri and film-script writer Masoon Rahi Raza have publicly advocated that Urdu must be written in Hindi script in India. Hindi script would be the unification of two languages and spoken Urdu will remain pure and chase as it is spoken now. The unification would require a minor change of adding z (ज़/झ़) in Hindi alphabet.

Notwithstanding, a noticeable decline in the percentage of Urdu knowing people, there is little decline in the popularity of Urdu ghazals. In recent years, there has been remarkable increase in the interest in ghazals as can be evidenced by the rise of numerous ghazal singers at cultural gatherings, private parties, television shows and records and audio cassettes being marketed.

A visit to a ghazal concert will prove how some ghazal enthusiasts eagerly jot down the words in their own language so as to refer to them at home to be able to understand the full meaning of the verse. To such ghazal enthusiasts, this book will be a boon in its paper-back edition.

With the permission of Janab Kaifi Azami, we have reproduced the Foreword which was written by him for our 4th edition. In this, he has also expressed his opinion for change of Persian script to the need of present time.

بمبئی میں صنعت کاروں کی کوئی کمی نہیں۔ لیکن ایسا صنعت کار جو دانش ور بھی ہو، ادب دوست بھی ہو اور سیکولر بھی ہو۔ انگلیوں پر گنے جا سکتے ہیں۔ بمبئی میں زندگی کے پچاس برس گذارنے کے بعد میں صرف ایک ایسے صنعت کار سے واقف ہو سکا اور یہ ہیں جناب "سلطان ناتھانی"، قریب سے نہ سہی دور سے سہی جناب سلطان ناتھانی کی سرگرمیوں کو دیکھتا اور سراہتا رہا ہوں۔ انھوں نے کچھ دنوں پہلے ایسی تخلیقی سرگرمیوں کے انعامات دینے کا فیصلہ کیا تھا۔ جن تخلیقات کا مقصد قومی یک جہتی کو فروغ دینا ہو۔

ہماری اردو زبان کو آزادی کے بعد سے اب تک جو نقصانات پہنچے ہیں ان کی ایک وجہ یہ بھی ہے کہ ہم اردو والے نئی فکر کو جلدی قبول نہیں کرتے۔ حالاں کہ اردو زبان نے اب تک جتنی ترقی کی ہے اس کی ایک اور بہت اہم وجہ وہ ہے جس کی طرف ہمارے سب سے بڑے شاعر غالبؔ نے ان لفظوں میں

اشارہ کیا ہے

؎ بامن میاویز اے پدر فرزند آزر را نگر !!
ہر کس کہ شد صاحب نظر دینِ بزرگان خوش نہ کرد

جناب سلطان ناتھانی نے اردو کے دس ہزار الفاظ جمع کر کے ان کے مقابلے میں انگریزی، ہندی الفاظ رکھ کے ایک ایسے طریقے کی ابتدا کی ہے کہ اگر اردو والے اس کو اپنا لیں تو اردو کے قاریوں کا حلقہ بہت وسیع ہو جائے گا. اور اردو کی مقبولیت میں بے حد اضافہ ہو جائے گا. ایسے انگریزی اور ہندی جاننے والے جو اردو سیکھنا اور پڑھنا چاہتے ہیں. مجھے یقین ہے کہ ناتھانی صاحب کی یہ کوشش بہت بار آور ثابت ہو گی۔ میں قاموسی انسان نہیں ہوں اور نہ لغت کے رموز و نکات پر تبصرہ کرنے کی صلاحیت ہے مجھ میں۔ یہ چند سطریں ایک شعر کے ساتھ ناتھانی صاحب کی نذر کرتا ہوں۔

؎ تمہارے حلقہ بگوشوں میں ایک ہم بھی ہیں
پڑا رہے یہ سخن کان میں گہر کی طرح!

पेश लफ्ज़

बंबई में सनअत कारों की कोई कमी नहीं लेकिन ऐसे सनअत कार जो दानिशवर भी हो, अदब दोस्त भी हो और सैक्युलर भी हो, उँगलियों पर गिने जा सकते हैं। बंबई में जिंदगी के पचास बरस गुज़ारने के बाद मैं सिर्फ एक ऐसे सनअत कार से वाकिफ हो सका और यह है जनाब ''सुलतान नाथानी,'' करीब से न सही दूर से सही जनाब सुलतान नाथानी की सरगरमियों को देखता और सराहता रहा हूँ। उन्होंने कुछ दिनो पहले ऐसी तखलिक़ी सरगरमियों के ईनामात देने का फैसला किया था, जिन तखलीक़ात का मक्सद ''कौमी यक जहती'' को फरोग़ देना हो—

हमारी उर्दू ज़बान को आज़ादी के बाद से अब तक जो नुकसानात पहुँचे हैं उन की एक वजह यह भी है कि हम उर्दूवाले नयी फ़िक्र को जल्दी कुबूल नहीं करते। हालांकि उर्दू ज़बान ने अब तक जितनी तरक़्क़ी की है उस की एक और बहोत अहम वजह वह है जिस की तरफ हमारे सबसे बड़े शायर ग़ालिब ने इन लफ्ज़ो में ईशारा किया है।

''बा मन मियावेज़ ऐ पिदर फरज़न्दे आज़र रा निगर
हर कस के शुद साहेबे नज़र दीने बुजुर्गां खुश ना कर्द।

''शायर कहता है कि हमारे बुजुर्गो को हम से उलझना या नाराज़ नहीं होना चाहिये, आज़र (जो हज़रत ईब्राहीम के चाचा थे—और बुत साज़ थे) के बेटे की मिसाल सामने है। जिन्होंने बसीरत की मंज़िल पर पहुँचने के बाद अपने बाप के दीन की पैरवी नहीं की।

जनाब सुलतान नाथानी ने उर्दू के दस हज़ार अलफाज़ जमा करके

उन के मुकाबले में इंग्रेजी, हिन्दी अलफाज़ रख के एक ऐसे तरीक़े की इब्तेदा की है कि अगर उर्दूवाले इस को अपना लें तो उर्दू के क़ारियों का हलक़ा बहोत वसी होजायेगा और उर्दू की मक्बुलियत में बेहद इज़ाफा हो जायेगा। ऐसे इंग्रेजी और हिन्दी जाननेवाले जो उर्दू सीखना और पढ़ना चाहते है, मुझे यक़ीन है कि नाथानी साहब की ये कोशिश बहोत बार आवर साबित होगी। मैं क़ामुसी इन्सान नहीं हूँ और ना लोग़त के रमुज़ व निकात पर तबसरा करने की सलाहियत है मुझ में। यह चंद सतरें एक शे'र के साथ नाथानी साहब की नज़र करता हूँ—

तुम्हारे हलक़ा बगोशों में एक हम भी हैं
पड़ा रहे यह सुख़न कान में गौहर की तरह

कैफ़ी आज़मी

''आपके मेरे हलक़ा में शामिल होने से
उर्दू अदब की रोशनी दूर दूर तक फैल जाएगी''

URDU

Language is a means of communication between two–persons, communities or nations. Certain languages are born out of necessity and Urdu is one of them.

India had commercial relations from times immemorial with Arabia (Yemen), Iran (Persia), Egypt (Misr) and Greece (Yunan) and other countries. Merchants and travellers from these countries visited India and left traces of their languages and Prakriti–a mixture of local languages along with foreign languages, emerged. The other opinion about Prakrit is that it is an off-shoot of Sanskrit which was commonly used by the local people.

The 14th Century Hindu poets and writers have also used Persian and Arabic words in their works. Chand Barot in 'Prithvi Raj Rasa' and Kabir of Banaras in his 'Dohas' have used many Persian and Arabic words. In Guru Nanak's work too, Persian words are found.

Urdu is a Turkish word meaning 'The Bazar for Soldiers'. When the Moghul rulers established themselves in India at the beginning of 16th Century, the language spoken by their soldiers was an admixture of Persian, Arabic and Brij-Bhasha and thus Urdu was born which was also called Rekhta; a language composed of words from other languages. One can rightly say that the birth-place of Urdu is India. Mr. Saiyid Hamid, President of Anjuman Taraqqi (Urdu) Hind has stated that 75% of Urdu words are of Indian origin and less than 25% owe their origin to Persian, Arabic and Turkish languages.

No language is pure; similarly Urdu also differs from place to place. Urdu in Lucknow is differently pronounced as compared with Urdu in Bombay and Urdu in Hyderabad (Deccan). Vali of Aurangabad–known as Vali Dakhnni, includes many Deccani words in his verses and in the odes of Gujarati and Maratha poets many Gujarati and Marathi words are found.

From the above it can be concluded that Urdu was born in India and is an Indian language, which has greatly contributed to Indian cultural heritage.

NATHANI TRUST

The Trust was founded in 1968 with the basic object of assisting and providing educational scholarships and awards to the needy students without any bar on caste or creed. Since its inception, the Trust has provided educational assistance to thousands of students.

One of the aims of the Trust has been to primarily work for national integration and break the barrier between the different Indian languages. With this aim in mind the Trust is bringing out English-Urdu dictionaries. These dictionaries will help in popularising and understanding of Urdu language for ghazal lovers.

All proceeds received from the sale of this book will go towards further assisting the needy students from the lower income-group.

TERMINOLOGY OF URDU POETRY

ASH'ĀR : (Couplet). It consists of two lines (MISRĀ); first line is called 'MISRĀ-E-OOLĀ' and the second is called 'MISRĀ-E-SĀNI'. Each verse embodies a single thought or subject (sing) SHE'R.

BAIT : Another term for SHE'R.

BAIT-UL-GHAZAL : The best SHE'R in a GHAZAL.

GHAZAL : (Ode). The literary meaning of the word 'GHAZAL' is to converse with beloved. It is a poem containing minimum 5 verses and maximum 25. The opening Verse of the GHAZAL is called MATLĀ and both hemistiches rhyme with one another. The last verse of the GHAZAL is called MAQTĀ which usually contains the penname of the poet. Most of Persian and Urdu writers have earned fame as GHAZAL writers. GHAZAL is the soul of Urdu literature and most popular form of Urdu poetry.

FARD : Composition of only a single SHE'R is called FARD.

HAMD : Poem written in praise of God.

HAZAL : Poem with humourous subject.

HIJV : (Satire). A poem written to condemn or to abuse a person. This form of poetry is considered of low type and which is usually avoided by reputed poets. The exact opposite of HIJV is MADAH which is a poem written in praise of Kings and Patrons.

HUSN-E-MATLĀ : Rhyming of the first two lines of a GHAZAL is called HUSN-E-MATLA.

MADAH : Poem written in praise of Kings and Patrons.

MANQABAT : Poem written in praise of Ahle-E-Bait (the members of the family of Holy Prophet).

MAQATĀ : The last line of a GHAZAL or a poem which generally contains the poet's pen-name.

MARSIYĀ : A poem written to commemorate the exploits of great men of Islam; usually to describe the battle fought on the plains of Karbala in Iraq by Hazarat Imam Husain and his supporters against the army of Yazid. It is usually a poem of mourning. The famous MARSIYĀ writers in Urdu are Mir Baberali Anis and Salamatali Dabir. Even a short poem written to mourn the death of a friend can be called MARSIYĀ. Lord Alfred Tennyson's poem 'In Memoriam' can rightly be called MARSIYĀ. The sub-parts of MARSIYĀ are called NOHĀ and SOZ which means lamentation and burning of (heart) respectively.

MASNAWI : A long epic poem describing the battles fought long ago and past events. It may also contain philosophical or ethical themes. The most famous MASNAWIS are Shah-Namah of Firdosi, Masnavi-E-Roomi in Persian language and Zehar-E-Ishq in Urdu. Even epic poems of India, Mahabharata and Ramayana can be called MASNAWI.

MATLĀ : The opening SHE'R of a GHAZAL or a poem.

MISRĀ' : One line of a couplet, or verse.

MUNĀJĀT : A lyrical poem as prayer to God.

MUSADDAS : Each unit consists of 6 lines (Misra). Most famous writer of this type of poem is Maulana Altaf Husain Hali.

NĀ'T : Verses written in praise of the Holy Prophet.

NAZAM : The literary meaning of NAZM is Poetry (opp of NASR) (Prose) A poem fully dealing with a single subject or thought.

QĀFIĀ : Rhyming of the last words of a poem.

QASIDĀ : (Ballad). It is a long poem in Urdu, Persian or Arabic which usually describes battles or written in praise of kings, princes or the poet's patron. There is no limit of verses; it may even go beyond hundred lines.

QATA' : (Fragments). It has two SHE'RS (lines) and has a complete one subject.

RADEEF : (End rhyme). Each SHE'R of GHAZAL in addition to QAFIĀ may also have RADEEF which is rhyming of more than the last two or three words.

RUBĀI'EE : Contains only 4 lines, the third one being different from the other three as it should not have QĀFIĀ and RADEEF. RUBĀI'EE deals with social, philosophical and romantic subjects. In Persian language Umar Khayyam is supposed to be a great poet of RUBAIYYAT whereas in Urdu Yagana, Firaq and Josh are leading poets of this time and Anis, an old time poet.

SALĀM : (Literal meaning Salutation)It is a kind of poem in which the incidents of Karbala i.e. hardships of Hazarat Imam Husain and his followers are described It is also written in Praise of Holy Prophet, and is recited by standing up.

SEHRĀ : A song sung at the time of tying Sehra during wedding ceremony, praising the bride or the bridegroom and their relatives.

SHER ĀSHOB : Poem describing a ruined city.

TAH-TUL-LAFZ : The manner of reciting a poem; like rythmic prose i.e. without singing; word for word.

TAKHALLUS : A name adopted by a poet, by which he is known in the literary world.

TARANNUM : The manner of reciting a poem in the form of a song.

WĀSOKHT : Literal meaning 'displeasure' or 'disgust'. A kind of poem in which the displeasure and carelessness of a lover is narrated; while relinquishing the beloved.

GEET : Song or hymn.

MUSHĀIRĀ : A symposium of poets; a poet's gathering.

QAWWĀLI : Devotional song expressing the love and oneness with God sung by a group of people to the accompaniment of musical instruments. Now-a-days, it has taken popular form covering subjects of romance, liquor, etc.

"This book has brought the light of friendship and love in the hearts of people speaking different languages.This book has become invaluable."

ALI SARDAR JAFRI.

"This book has indeed opened the door to a richer understanding of the many splendoured elegance of Urdu language for the pleasure of Gazal lovers who relish and enjoy the sweet temper and fascinating lyricism of Urdu poetry but do not fully understand the finer nuances and meaning in depth."

DILIP KUMAR

"Audiences will now have a reference book to be able to understand the delicate beauty and meaning of the romantic couplets, thereby increasing the pleasure of ghazals."

TALAT MAHMOOD

"This is a great service to Urdu and Urdu lovers. The popularity of Urdu poetry needs this type of contribution."

CHITRA-JAGJIT SINGH

"I must compliment and congratulate on this massive effort of compiling difficult Urdu words and making it easy for people who have great love for this language but are unable to read or write this beautiful language."

PANKAJ UDHAS

"Urdu is the most musical of all languages in the world. It is India's most priceless heritage, more valuable than the Koh-i-noor and the Taj Mahal. We must not let it die out. This dictionary will go a long way in restoring it to health."

KHUSHWANT SINGH
